

Analyzing WeRateDogs

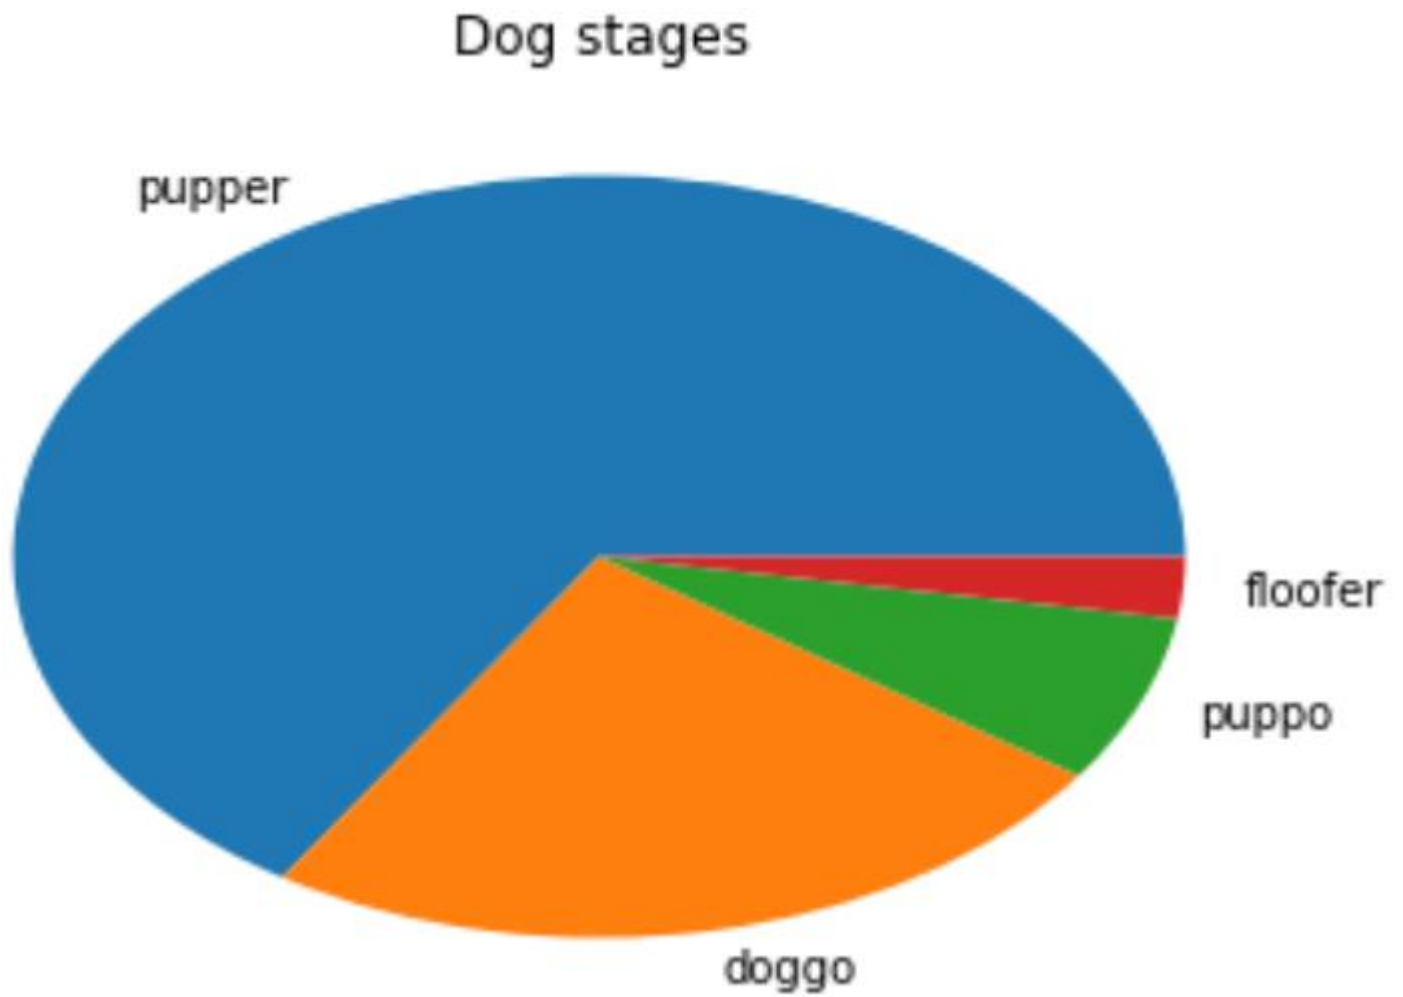

WeRateDogs is very popular account on twitter, the idea of this account is tweeting an images of dogs in lovely way and rate them out of 10 but always rate them above 10 so it not logical rating, and this account got massif intraction from twitter users, so I have some analyzing on this account.

As we can see in this graph the most frequent breed of dogs that this account is tweeting , as it appere that golden_retriver is the most frequent breed of dogs.

As new can see in this graph the red refers to faivorets and blue refers to retweets, faiverets are much higer than retweets , and the retweets are growing over the time, as we can see in the above graph that dog stage pupper is the most common stage, and doggo become the second
